1305 Dares Beach Road

Daniel D. Curry:

Since you suddenly care so much about staff safety and wellbeing surrounding the Coronavirus, even though you initially tried to engineer things so we would have to come to the Central Office four times to pay for and collect the products of our two recent requests, here's an idea for how our records pickup can go tomorrow. It would be the same as 7/76/18, when we collected the first batch of email records we requested, and which took almost three months to produce. We had already once refused the records because a proper count sheet wasn't provided. At the 7/26 pickup Ms. Maxey informed us she had another appointment and would be unable to stay, told us we could go through the records, and instructed us to make payment to Ms. White in the next room. It worked just fine, and we didn't take the records and leave without making payment. How about if the flash drive, printed emails and count sheets are spread out on a table in the board meeting room, we go through the records alone, and leave payment for either the financials, or the financials and emails when we leave, exactly like last time? If we choose not to pay for the emails, we assure you we will not take them with us, and will then send a letter to document any deficiencies and demand proper provision of records. Alternatively, Ms. Maxey can hand us the records through the front doors, in the fashion we requested them, and we can go through them on the front steps, determine for what we will pay and receive, and then make payment through the door. That would be ridiculous, but those are the lengths we are willing to go to for these records. So, since we were trusted last time to do the right thing - and did - you can trust us again. You have lied to us repeatedly, but have we lied to you? Should we move on to phase two of our PIA suit? What do you prefer?

This is stupid,

John Blevins
